

10 things you should know:

- The Morenci Mine is North America's leading producer of copper.
- Arizona produces more copper than any other state in the nation.
- The first shovel of rock for Morenci's first pit was scooped out in 1937.
- Freeport-McMoRan is recognized as a leader in the use of new technology at its mining operations.
- We move more than 800,000 tons of rock each day.
- Our equipment is mammoth. One $2 million haul truck can carry 270 tons of ore on tires almost 12 feet in diameter.
- More than 3500 employees work around the clock producing about 850 million pounds of copper each year.
- A core value at Freeport-McMoRan is safety, Morenci employees focus on safety at work and at home.
- The average single-family home contains about 440 pounds of copper.
- Morenci is a "zero-discharge" operation. Virtually all of the water used at Morenci is recycled, some of it many times over.

Quotes from tourists upon first seeing the largest open pit mine in North America:

"Awe-inspiring!"

"Something everyone should see."

"American industry at its grandest."

We Invite You

We invite you to tour this monumental achievement of American industry. The Freeport-McMoRan Morenci Copper Mine is located in Greenlee County in eastern Arizona, where humanity and nature stand side by side offering some of the world's most spectacular sights. Azure skies frame natural hues of brown, red, gray and almost every color in between. The view from the mine's Coronado Overlook presents a vista that never seems to end and a scale that will fire your imagination. It is truly an experience you will never forget.

Welcome

Our friendly "Copper Guides" will welcome you at the Morenci Motel in the heart of the mine community. The gathering area is near the motel's front desk and offers a convenient restaurant and gift shop. Before beginning the tour, you will be briefed about the tour itinerary and given an overview of copper and the high-tech mining processes used at Morenci. The orientation also will cover safety while on the tour.

On Our Way

After the briefing, we will board our climate-controlled tour buses and head out on the tour. For about 2 1/2 hours, you will be close to the operations of one of the world's largest open pit mines. Spectacular lookout points enable you to experience the enormity of the operation. At each stop you will see first hand the various steps in taking the raw ore from the ground to the finished pure copper. And along the way, our "Copper Guides" will keep you informed, intrigued and entertained with copper "did you knows," information about the mine and its fascinating history.
